Messages for Today from Heavenly Friends

Angels are beautiful, bright beings of light whose charge is to amplify the feelings and the divine emotions of God. They are also messengers of God who deliver to mankind guidance, hope and understanding as well as graces, virtues and blessings. They inspire us, assist us and raise our consciousness; they save us from peril and danger. They are our servitors and our wonderful divine friends, always available to us.

We learn in messages from over forty angels that we are always encouraged to call to our friends of light for greater assistance and that, by invitation, they are always available to help us through any crisis, difficult situation or even in our daily activities. Our lives may become much more sublime and joyous as the precious angels interact with us to lighten our load and inspire us in so many ways. In communion with the angels our lives are happier and more fruitful.

For readability, we have freely used he, him, mankind, and man to refer to both male and female as well as to the Divine. We recognize God as a uniplurality—masculine and feminine as one. For the sake of brevity, we refer to God as he or she. The term man refers to mankind in general. Brotherhood refers to the Universal Great White Brotherhood, whose membership in the heaven world and in embodiment is both male and female; here the word white refers to the white light of their auras. To distinguish the soul from the spirit aspect of being, we often use she and her when referring to the soul and he and him when referring to the spirit.

INTRODUCTION

Dear Heartfriend,

You hold in your hands a divinely inspired book wrought by many hands and overshadowed by many angels. I pray that these same angels will be tangibly with you as you read and consider their messages as well as the experiences and stories that will be shared.

Angels have always been with me during my life. I consider my mother to have been an angelic woman, for she was literally a saint who bore ten children (hopefully mostly angels ourselves!). She had to have been special to put up with all that transpired in our home in Hinsdale, Illinois (a western suburb of Chicago), while nursing and feeding us and changing diapers continuously for over two decades! Shortly after she passed from this plane at the spring equinox in 2009, a beautiful rainbow appeared in the sky over where I lived in Montana—surely a message that she was now again safely back home in heaven among her many angel-friends.

A 2007 Baylor Religion Survey found that 81% of those queried believed in angels.<sup>1</sup> A beloved television drama series called Touched by an Angel, starring Roma Downey and Della Reese ran for ten years from 1994 to 2003 and was a tremendous hit with over forty famous actors making cameo appearances during its run. It was amazing that with Hollywood and television's widespread aversion to religious and spiritual themes that a representation of angelic intercession in modern-day lives could be portrayed with such creativity and candor.

I have always believed in angels and divine beings and have had dozens of miraculous occurrences in my life that could only be explained by divine intervention and grace. Two of the most dramatic were near-drownings when I was ten and again when I was eighteen. It seems as if heaven had a plan for my life and that I was always in the loving care of my guardian angel as well as a veritable legion of other angels who prepared me for my greater life mission at the age of forty-eight.

I grew up Catholic, though I left the church when I was fourteen after reading a book on Edgar Cayce, who became known as “the sleeping prophet.” After studying everything I could find on more esoteric teachings,

I discovered the ascended masters while still a senior in high school. A year after attending Summit University at nineteen in Santa Barbara, California and helping found a teaching center in Minneapolis, I was invited to work on the staff of The Summit Lighthouse in Colorado Springs. Constant in praying a new-age rosary to the Blessed Mother Mary nearly daily for thirty years, she appeared to me in 2002—changing my life forever. I’ve highlighted this experience in my book, Advanced Studies of the Human Aura.<sup>2</sup>

Two years later in early June 2004, beloved Jesus came to me and assigned me to receive daily messages, later referred to as HeartStreams.<sup>3</sup> These were inspirational messages dictated in the same basic manner as those received by numerous saints who had experienced what Catholicism calls interior locution.<sup>4</sup> In addition to Jesus and Mary and other saints daily coming to me to share these transmissions, angelic beings began dictating powerful messages, including HeartStreams from all the archangels. Over the past sixteen years, I’ve been privileged to have received over seven thousand HeartStreams, rich in love and spiritual radiation, that share these missives of wisdom with any who are open to receive them.

One amazing dynamic is that each male archangel has a female counterpart, or wife, who is his perfect partner, engaging in divine service that is spiritually complementary to his own ministration to life. I had learned of this truth within The Summit Lighthouse in 1974, and it wasn’t until thirty-one years later in 2005 that new revelations would come from angelic realms that would broaden this apocryphal understanding.

Many unknown angels’ names and missions couldn’t be released until the twenty-first century when more awakened and enlightened souls would be ready to hear and assimilate their powerful releases. One such miraculous manifestation occurred in 2006 when a new prayer service called the Rosary of Divine Quintessence was dictated to me during which the names of the Archangels and Archeiai (the feminine archangels) of the Five Crystal Rays were revealed.

This Aquarian rosary perfectly complements another one dictated earlier in 2005, the Rosary of Faith, during which we pray to the seven archeiai and the seven archangels, some of whom are widely recognized and others of whom are typically only known to those who have studied the teachings of the masters through various esoteric movements. One particular rhythmic and rhyming prayer was so beautiful that it has been a favorite for years and always brings me to tears when I consider the divine beauty of these angels—holy creatures who care so much about each soul and desire to help all of us fulfill our life’s mission and return to the divine world in the ascension in the light.

In 2019 we published a little booklet entitled, New Age Devotional Rosaries to Broadcast Divine Love and Light to All. It explains why prayers invoking the names of divine beings are crucial at this time to help generate greater energy from above to meet the challenges of today. It is interesting to hear, for example, that even these magical and powerful beings, who seem to transcend the laws of nature as we experience them in our mortal forms, are able to perform alchemical feats to help us deal with everything in our dimension that is dark, deceptive or demonic. There is no problem greater than what an archangel or archeiai can handle!

In this book there are nearly four dozen very special messages dictated to me by these ethereal beings, who are indeed mighty messengers of God as well as our guardians, advocates and best friends. Their light bodies were so close and real and the spiritual radiation so palpable as they dictated through me that my face and neck would often turn a pink or ruby color for at least twenty to forty minutes, and this manifestation was noticeable to anyone who was nearby. On occasion, those closest in proximity to me would also be flushed by the light!

Throughout this book we have included what I consider to be some of the most beautiful images of many of the angels whose messages are included herein. A dear friend of nearly forty years, David Keil, has been able to capture their visages, as well as the dynamic and colorful spiritual energies they wield in his powerful representations. These images alone are well worth the price of this tome!

I owned an art gallery and framing shop for nearly ten years in downtown Livingston, Montana. During those years I searched the world for the most sublime spiritual images I could find depicting heavenly beings, masters such as Jesus and Mary, and various angels. In 1996 I helped fund an up-and-coming artist, Marius Michael-George, in the first printing of his own images of the seven archangels and their twin flames.<sup>5</sup> He has worked diligently and unquestionably become the best new age angel artist in the world. David Keil’s images are now akin to Marius’s in their beauty and accuracy as well as the spiritual radiation they evoke.

We have also included some special prayers, songs, and rosaries we hope you will find beneficial in your daily spiritual work to raise your own consciousness as well as that of all life on our planet into the light of the new day.

As you read these timeless messages from the angels, please commune with them, pray to them and engage them in divine work to assist all who require help, spiritual support and a reprieve from the pressures of life on Planet Earth. Truly prayer is the divine panacea that will help usher in a Golden-Crystal Age of freedom, enlightenment, peace and divine love. And surely the angels in our midst will help us daily to manifest this reality, as Above, so below! May the angels go with you always!

Lovingly Yours,

PART ONE

The Nine Choirs of Angels and their Work

Before I share an understanding of the Nine Choirs of Angels, I'd like to touch on the three evolutions of beings of which the nine choirs are a part.

Three Evolutions of Beings

When the Divine One sang Let There Be Light!<sup>6</sup> while siring and imagining the universe into existence, three special domains or evolutions of spirit-beings emerged within the eternal cycles of life. Each of these domains has a special purpose and commission to expand God's awareness of Self throughout its particular evolutionary journey, its life experience. And each is essential to the balance of all life within the cosmos.

The first domain consists of the Elohim, the Divine Us, who created the galaxies and solar systems with their stars, planetary homes, moons and other celestial manifestations. Within their domain, the precious elementary forces of what we now call ether, fire, air, water and earth coalesced into being in both form and formless states. Over vast eons of cycles of life, devic beings and nature spirits received the breath of life. They now live, move, and have their beings in this elemental domain as salamanders, sylphs, undines, and gnomes. Within these four "kingdoms," many sub-groupings appear as various types of fairies, mermaids and mermen, leprechauns and dwarves—often called the "little people" or "wee ones" that young children or other clairvoyants see.

The second domain consists of the nine choirs of angels who focus the divine feelings, qualities, and virtues of God. In various religious traditions these angelic beings have many levels of awareness as well as a host of responsibilities and functions. I appreciate the nine classifications that the Catholic tradition uses to denote their subdomains: Seraphim, Cherubim, Thrones, Dominions, Virtues, Powers, Principalities, Archangels and Angels. These are not rigid categories that denote a strict level of separation. Indeed special angels within these choirs may move into each other's universe to perform divine work and service as authorized by God, for they are heavenly beings of great light; they are ethereal beings composed of a different frequency of energy than we who are yet evolving upon Earth.

The third domain consists of mankind as well as ascended masters—those who have transcended time and space to reach an immortal state of being. In ancient mythology, many of these great masters were considered to be gods and goddesses because they possess great mastery over cosmic energies in that they live in a perfected state of pure oneness with their Source. All of humanity is destined to become Self-realized, enlightened and perfected in this state of immortality or everlasting life. As each soul masters the tests of the initiatic path and merges with pure light in the Unity Field of Beingness,* the soul eventually ascends back to God's eternal heart.

Awakened souls realize that they are born of Spirit, even while living within Matter. Each of us is in reality a glorious divine creation fashioned in the image and likeness of our Father-Mother God. Beings of all three domains may be allowed to interact and experience the unique opportunities that each type of life affords. And so, angels may at times incarnate as humans or elementals and evolve through their domains. Becoming more Self-realized in this way breeds greater compassion and understanding of and within each of the three domains or kingdoms.

When we know that angels are all around us—both unseen and seen—this realization that God is directly involved in our lives and affairs through these beautiful emissaries and messengers of light provides hope and comfort. We are always encouraged to call to our friends of light for greater assistance because we know that, by invitation, they are always available to help us through any crisis, difficult situation or even in our seemingly very mundane activities. Our lives may become much more sublime and joyous as the precious angels interact with us to lighten our load and inspire us in so many ways. In communion with the angels our lives are happier and more fruitful.

Virtues

Archangels, Archeiai and Angels

The nine choirs of angels from the closest to the Divine to the outer periphery are the seraphim, cherubim, thrones, dominions, virtues, powers, principalities, archangels and angels. Each choir has its purpose and authorization from God to act in a specific domain. These domains are planes of being, vibrational frequencies, located primarily in the etheric realms of light. Some choirs can act within lower domains when called upon and authorized by divine decree. God invests all of the choirs of angels with the authority to act in the universe, specifically within our dimensional plane of being.

In the Catholic tradition the nine choirs are grouped into three overarching or primary missions: counselors, governors, and messengers.<sup>7</sup> The counselors are the seraphim, cherubim and thrones, the highest of the nine. The governors are the dominions, virtues and powers. The messengers are the principalities, archangels and angels. This grouping doesn't mean that there is a definitive segregation of these beings into isolated spiritual regions. Angels of one choir often interact with and support angels or other ascended masters, divine beings or ascended beings outside of their normal functional frequency. They are truly superheroes of the highest order and can engage in numerous activities that support the kingdom of God, manifesting as Above, so below. They are rich in spiritual light and divine fire and effulgent in God's graces, which they love to employ as blessings
